

PERSUASION

Persuasion

by Jane Austen (1775-1817)

Persuasion is a regency Cinderella-esque tale of a young woman, the beautiful Anne Elliot, who is persuaded from marrying the Naval officer of her heart. It is now almost nine years since she rejected him. Bonaparte has abdicated and England's sailors return home covered in glory. Fredrick Wentworth is now a rich and highly eligible sea captain and the two are curiously thrown together. Will their former affection blossom anew? Or has the captain found another?

Total running time: 7:15:14

Jane Austen

Jane Austen

Read by Madame Tusk

Cover design: Kathryn Delaney
Cover art: H.M. Brock, 1898 edition

PERSUASION